BETHEL RECREATION BOARD NEEDS VOLUNTEERS FOR ICE SKATING RINK

The Bethel Recreation Board met on Wednesday, Nov. 7, to finalize its 1980 budget and discuss its plans for the winter season.

In planning its 1980 budget, the Recreation Board discussed an expansion of its existing summer programs and the possible addition of activities for Bethel teenagers. The board acted on a budget proposal which will be presented to the Town Manager by the end of the month.

The main topic of discussion and area of immediate concern was the ice skating program at Crescent Park School. Thanks to the town and S. A. D. #44, a load of gravel has been delivered to the rink site at Crescent Park, and the gravel has been levelled. Now, the Recreation Board must recruit and organize a team of volunteers to maintain the ice skating facility during the winter. Anyone interested in working with the skating program should call Maryvonne Wheeler at 824-2091. The Recreation Board hopes to get 14 volunteers, so that teams of two can be assigned to one day per week.

Finally the Recreation Board discussed filling a vacancy. Anyone interested in serving on the Recreation Board should call the town office.

DENTAL HEALTH EDUCATION UNDERWAY IN S. A. D. #44

Dental Health education in S. A. D. #44 is well underway in the elementary schools. In addition to classroom instruction by a dental hygienist about twice a month, more than 70% of the students district-wide, are participating in the fluoride portion of the program. This whole program is education and prevention oriented, and district students appear to be enthusiastic about it. The fluoride rinse is done once a week in the classroom and takes about four minutes to complete. The actual swishing is done for one minute and the remainder of time is spent dispensing cups containing the rinse and collecting the cups. A high percentage of those children are also taking fluoride tablets daily at school. National statistics for a program such as this reveal

On Nov. 7 the Jolly Workers girls club had four new members to their club. They are Melissa Billings, Laura Reed, Julie Merrill and June House.

The girls pressed their material and started on their sewing projects.

The meeting was then taken over by Naja Bolio, who helped the girls work on their program for the Grange. Dodie Dyke brought in some creative things which she had made. She showed them to the girls. The younger group made hand puppets. They made them all by hand. The 4-H will put on the Thanksgiving program Nov. 19 at the Grange. Everyone is welcome. Look for posters at the Village Store to find the time.

There are special meetings in the area this week with Rev. Tal McNutt. They are Thursday, Saturday and Sunday at South Paris Baptist Church.

Each Tuesday is Women's Bible Study at the Floyd Keniston's at 9:30 a. m. and Youth Group at the gym at 6 p. m.

Kathy Bennett, Corres.

The sun has finally found its way through the clouds this morning. Hope it stays out for a while. Sarah Andrews went to an early Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Alberta Ridlon in Sweden, on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Andrews. On Wednesday Sarah went to Lewiston with Mr. and Mrs. George Allen of Norway. They had lunch at York's Steak House.

Recent callers at the home of Edna and Albert McAllister have been Ed, Alberta and Howard White, Clyde Millett and Virginia McAllister.

On Sunday Albert and Edna went to South Paris to watch their great granddaughter, Meredith White, model dresses.

David Scribner spent the long week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scribner. On Thursday Libby Scribner helped with the Parish sale at the Hunter's supper in East Stoneham.

Roger and Yvette Barton and children, Frank Barton Sr., and Arthur Seavey were recent callers at the Barton farm. Harvey Barton called there on Saturday.

All the pre-winter chores are slowly getting done here at K.D.'s Acres. It would help a lot if it didn't rain every week end.

Callers this week have been Libby Scribner, Jean Reynolds, Margaret Barton and Yvette Barton and Dale, Gus and Polly McAllister, and my folks, Forrest and Eva Twitchell.

Hope all my readers are well and happy.

Each trail's distance, difficulty rating, and names of appropriate topographical maps for the area are included. Striking snow scenes photographed by the author along the route will entice even the laziest skier into the forest.

This book includes routes that are easy and enjoyable for the beginner as well as tours that will satisfy the expert skier in search of a challenge. Beiser warns novice skiers of the more dangerous spots and offers valuable safety tips. For example, he says that on the Redington Pond trail "the scenery more than repays the well conditioned beginner who ventures out on this route, even though he may occasionally need to use the 'fanny brake'." All skiers will appreciate Beiser's historical and nature notes that tell the stories behind the old homes, forts, cemeteries and interesting land features that the skier will discover along the way.

Karl Beiser has earned degrees from the University of Maine and the University of Rhode Island.

FULL-TUITION SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE THROUGH ROTC

Army ROTC has 6,500 full-tuition scholarships available for qualified high school and college students according to LTC Joseph K. Brown, professor of military science at the University of Maine at Orono.

"Naturally, they don't all go to school at UMO," LTC Brown said, "but we have our share."

"Currently, we have 21 cadets here on two, three and four-year scholarships and we expect more in the future. These are some of the best scholarships available to day. They pay full tuition, lab fees, books, and up to $1,000 per year in living allowances for each year the scholarship is in effect," LTC Brown explained.

"Here at UMO, a 4-year ROTC scholarship could be worth as much as $10,000, and that kind of financial aid for a college education would be an enormous help to the thousands of students who want to attend college but who are discouraged by the rising costs of higher education," he added.

The awarding of ROTC scholarships is based solely on merit and to qualify students should have good grades, be near or at the top of their class standings, and be able to demonstrate leadership qualities through involvement in school activities or athletics.

For students who are already attending college and have found the costs of education climbing beyond their means, there are two and three-year scholarships available. Again, these scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit alone and students have to meet the same academic and leadership standards required for a four-year scholarship.

Students or parents who wish more information on Army ROTC scholarships should call LTC Brown at 581-1112, or stop by his office at the Department of Military Science, Armory, University of Maine at Orono.

25 SKI TOURS IN MAINE

NEW BOOK FOR X-C SKIERS

Maine native Karl Beiser is an avid cross-country skier, and he shares his enthusiasm for the sport in a new book, "25 Ski Tours in Maine". It is the latest in the best-selling "25 Ski Tours" series published by the New Hampshire Publishing Company in Somersworth, N. H. The guidebook offers the novice and advanced skier valuable information about trails off the beaten track from Kittery to Caribou.

Three Western Maine cross-country areas are included in the book: Andover/Farrington Hill, Sunday River and Evans Notch.

All the trails selected by the author exhibit the beauty and diversity of Maine's geography; skiers can choose from trails along the rolling surf of the Atlantic to quiet woodland routes beneath the craggy visage of Mount Katahdin. The author explains that with brooks and boulders buried beneath an even blanket of snow, the skier can move farther and faster into the wilderness than could be traveled on foot in the summer.

The guidebook contains complete descriptions of the routes, in addition to easy-to-read sketch maps, driving and parking directions, and phone numbers for local weather information. Each trail's distance, difficulty rating, and names of appropriate topographical maps for the area are included. Striking snow scenes photographed by the author along the route will entice even the laziest skier into the forest.

BARTHOLOMAEI IS NATIONAL CHAIRMAN OF GOULD FUND DRIVE

Nathaniel T. Bartholomaei, Gould Academy class of 1940, has been named National Chairman of Gould's Annual Giving Fund Drive for 1979-80.

Mr. Bartholomaei is a resident of Wappingers Falls, N. Y., and is manager of the Automotive Lubricants Division of Texaco, Inc., in nearby Beacon, N. Y. He is a graduate of the University of Maine at Orono and received his Master's Degree from the University of Delaware. In his hometown area he is active in civic affairs, serving as a Director of the Dutchess County Health Systems Agency and as Chairman of the Dutchess County Project Review Committee.

As National Chairman, Mr. Bartholomaei will be helping Gould raise $42,500 in Annual Giving from alumni, parents, past parents, trustees, friends and corporations. His primary responsibility will be to contact Gould's 2,700 alumni and acquaint them with Gould's program and needs. This year's campaign is entitled "Challenge of the 80's" and emphasizes the problems facing all schools and colleges, particularly private institutions, as they move into the new decade.

HEALTH CENTER VOLUNTEERS MAKE QUILT-OF-NAMES

In the tradition of old time Maine quilting, a group of volunteers joined forces to piece together a quilt-of-names for the Bethel Area Health Center.

The Health Center's quilt-of-names has 25 squares in a snowflake pattern, with space for over 1,200 names in the margins. Any Bethel area resident can get their name on the quilt for a contribution of $1 or more per name. The finished quilt will be displayed in the Health Center. The Health Center volunteers hope to develop increased support for the Bethel Area Health Center through their efforts.

The volunteer group, coordinated by Carol Gersen, pieced the 64" x 64" quilt over a two month period. Among the quilters contributing their time and effort were: Cathy Newell, Dorla Fudge, Jane Barth, Ruth Feeney, Mary Lou Fiske, Virginia Keniston, Nellie Frankevicz, Linda Miller, Carol Starr, Nancy Bentley, Barbara

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST Fairy Tales and Witchcraft

Little children love pleasant stories such as "The Pokey Little Piggie, The Three Little Pigs and Gumpy Bread Boy. At bed time a Bible story and prayer such as—"Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord Jesus, my soul to keep" prepares them for a restful night.

Bible reading and prayer have been greatly displaced by our modern science and the invention of television and radio—much of our time is spent in not so modern practices as Astrology, Ouija Board and black magic. Seems strange to include Astrology into the classification of magic as this national pastime or addiction is favored by millions of Americans—nearly all of our daily newspapers contain horoscopes—see the newsstands as so many magazines cater to this age old study of the stars, and celestial bodies.

The Bible while it seems mysterious is so plain that even a six year old child will garner considerable knowledge from it—for we know that God speaks to us from this truly living masterpiece—The Holy Bible.

For the information, no interpretation is needed as we read in numerous verses such as: Daniel 1:20—2:27 and 5:7 where it specifically condemns Astrology, fortune tellers and magicians. Deuteronomy 18:10-12 describes such wizards, enchanters, observer of times, charmers, necromancer, witches and familiar spirits—and the Bible declares God's anger with such things. Divination, using a divining rod for the searching of underground supplies of water comes under the big word—rhubromancy. Today locally—here, we call it dowsing. This is witchcraft where familiar spirits perform their appointed tasks, serving the chief of liars, Satan.

It is no wonder our beloved nation and many of its citizens are weak and sickly. Our President, Mr. Carter continually goes to God in prayer for he knows the difference between things of Satan and things of God.

When will we learn we have a wonderful Lord to whom we may go for advice—He loves us so much that He let His Son, Jesus Christ become a sin and blood offering—that we through Christ may find eternal life—even now a life of—"love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness—self control." Gal. 5:22-33.

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC. HOLDS MEETING

At the last meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society there was a full agenda. The new constitution was adopted after some discussion of the question of how donations were to be arranged. Then the slate of officers, presented by the nominating committee was elected as follows: Larry Billings, president; Ella Twitche, vice-president; Starr Seguin, secretary; Anne Crockett, treasurer; trustees, Sterling Mills, Eldon Hathaway, Merle Ring.

After the business meeting an interesting presentation was made by Mrs. Percival, President of the Andover Historical Society. She discussed the many projects her group had undertaken to raise money and obtain their present historical building. They had sent out letters to former residents of the town for donations, held open house at several Andover homes, and created interest by initiating various displays about the village. There was much discussion of her ideas, and they sparked suggestions about projects this group might undertake.

The meeting concluded with a lunch that had been brought by various members. It is hoped attendance will be good at the next meeting, scheduled for the second Friday in December, when the program will be on Thomas Nast and Winslow Homer.

STAR CLUB DONUT-FRY SATURDAY, NOV. 17

The Star Club will be holding their annual donut fry on Saturday, Nov. 17, at 10 a. m. at the Masonic Hall, Chapman Street, in Bethel. Also there will be a baked goods and white elephant sale.

James, Elizabeth Lord, Caroline Merrill, Bertha Thurston, Ruth Wilkinson and Mary Bishop.

Sign up forms for the quilt-of-names are available at the Health Center, the town office, and at Gordon Gillies' office.

The volunteer quilters need your support to create a community heirloom that will display the names of some of the many people served by the Health Center.

NEW ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN BENEFITS NEARBY SKI AREAS

Four area ski mountains will be the primary beneficiaries of a major, new advertising campaign. Pleasant Mountain, Sunday River, Evergreen Valley and Mount Abram all are cooperating with the Maine Publicity Bureau in its push to get more of the people who usually ski in New Hampshire and Vermont over into Maine.

The areas, all members of the Ski Maine Association, have contributed directly to a $15,000 ad campaign plus a beefed-up promotion program with the MPB, according to its marketing director, Bruce Taylor.

"These southwestern Maine mountains," said Taylor, "are the most competitive with New Hampshire's ski areas because of the driving difference."

"The ad campaign we've designed hits directly at the cost of New Hampshire and Vermont skiing, plus the longer lift line waits. We think Maine has them beat on all counts. And we're saying so in the full-page, four-color ads."

The ads are in the current issues of Ski, Ski America and Downeast magazines, to name a few. "We've already generated considerable response to them," said Taylor. "I wouldn't be surprised if these

OXFORD COUNTY UNITED PARISH HOLDING VARIETY OF HOLIDAY SEASON ACTIVITIES

The parishioners of the Albany Congregational Church, the East Stoneham Church and the North Waterford Church, all members of the Oxford County United Parish, are involved in a variety of activities as the holiday season draws near.

The lively sessions of the weekly Bible Classes have created a lot of interest among those attending. Pastor Jeffrey Hooker leads the discussions. During October the sessions were held in Albany at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Scribner. This month the meetings have been held in East Stoneham with Mrs. Mary Grover and in December they will be held in the vestry of the North Waterford Church.

The East Stoneham ladies recently sponsored a public supper and Christmas Bazaar.

Amid a great deal of happy fellowship the people of the North Waterford Church have been making many fir wreaths for Christmas decorations. They have commercial and private orders to fill. This aromatic work is done in the garage of Mrs. B. Henley.

Craft workshops for fancywork sales are held the first Tuesday of each month with alternating afternoon and evening sessions scheduled. The most recent afternoon session was held with Mrs. Ruth Kingsley as the hostess. In her large old fashioned kitchen with its black cookstove throwing out waves of comforting heat,

DENTAL HEALTH EDUCATION

up to a 55% decrease in decay in children over a period of years. Surely this district would be pleased with similar statistics for its children.

Next question: What does it cost for the fluorides? The rince program is calculated at 55 cents per student per year. The daily tablet program is about 35 cents per student per year, and all this takes about 10-20 minutes of class room time. Presently more time and money is being spent for a hygienist and classroom instruction, plus toothbrushes, floss, disclosing tablets, and a limited number of visual aids, including some films. It is planned that soon the classroom teacher will conduct the instruction as part of the health education program, using the hygienist as a resource person.

To date, in the classroom instruction topics discussed, have included chewing as part of the digestive process; snacking—what and when; functions of teeth; what of a tooth; what happens when you have a loose tooth; plaque and the process of decay. Before Christmas vacation it is planned to introduce flossing (grades 4-6), use of a disclosing tablet and toothbrushing—how and when. It should be noted that classroom teachers are regularly supplementing this on an individual basis in their classrooms.

Students are being encouraged through this program and several other instructional areas by their classroom teachers not only to learn about but to practice preventive health and proper nutrition. But support is needed at home from parents to pack nutritious lunches and snacks, and encourage children to keep clean, healthy bodies and eat good foods at home. It takes students, teachers and parents all working together to teach and practice good habits—so ask your children what's going on in health at school, discuss it, and then help him or her practice it at home and school.

If any parent has not returned a fluoride permission slip to the school and wishes the child to participate, write a permission note for tablets and/or rinse for your child, sign it and send it along to the child's teacher. It's never too late to start a preventive program.

In and About Bethel

Mrs. Gardner Smith spent a week recently with her sister, Mrs. Henry Heath, Lovell.

Gardner Smith entered Maine Medical Center, Portland, for observation, Nov. 13.

Al and Charlotte Johnson of Westford, Mass., recently called on Julie Daye, Sunday River, and other friends and relatives in Bethel.

Gardner Smith joined Henry Heath, Lovell, for the week Nov. 2-10, at Larry Whitman's hunting trailer. Other guests: Don Whitman, Jim Whitman, Herb and hunting gang. On Sunday, Nov. 4, visitors were Patty Whitman, Mrs. Barbara Whitman, South Paris, Syb Doughty, Lisbon Falls. "Gig" was guest of honor for his birthday, with a lovely cake made by Patty Whitman.

mountains got at least a five-to-one return on their advertising investment."

Taylor said the managers of all the ski areas participated in developing the campaign because they saw the need for "something really strong and competitive to get the idea of Maine skiing moving."

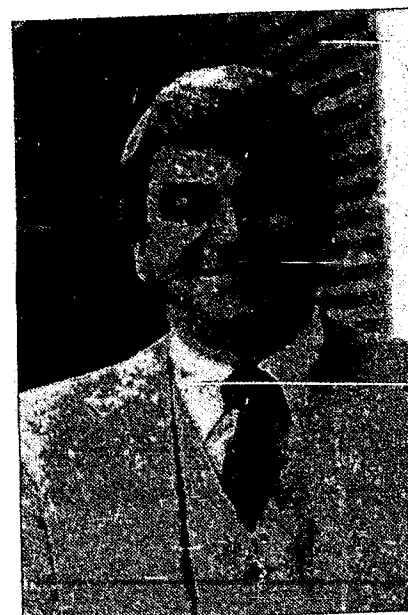

the ladies drew up their chairs around a large braided rug and sewed rag dolls for the parish bazaar.

Those attending were Christie Lord, Mertice Parker, Christine Kimball, Betty Stearns, Edith Labbe, Sarah Grover, Elizabeth Scribner and Mary Grover.

A get-well card was signed and sent to Mrs. Helen Grover who is recuperating from knee surgery.

Next month the parish activities will increase as Christmas services and festivities are scheduled.

HEADS PARENTS' FUND AT GOULD

Henry Senese has been named chairman of the Annual Giving drive for parents at Gould Academy. Mr. Senese lives in Concord, Mass., and is the president of the HMS Corporation in Boston. As chairman of the drive, he will be contacting Gould's parent body of 220 to encourage them to contribute to the Academy's 1979-80 Annual Giving Campaign, in the hopes of raising $42,500 for the school.

It could be said that Mr. Senese is truly committed to Gould Academy, as he is a member of the Board of Trustees, and has a daughter, Pamela, class of '82, attending the school. In addition, Mrs. Senese is in charge of the Birthday Book Club that will add to Gould's library of some 10,000 volumes.

The thrust of this year's campaign is the challenge of the 80's and encourages parents, alumni and friends to contribute to Gould to help the Academy meet the problems facing all schools and colleges, both private and public, as movement is made into the upcoming decade.

SENATOR WILLIAM COHEN From Washington

Last week the Senate approved an additional $30 million for immediate relief for the Cambodian refugees. This Congressional action enabled our government subsequently to pledge a contribution of $69 million to the international relief effort in Southeast Asia.

For many in Cambodia, this action has come too late. We hope that for hundreds of thousands of others it will mean the difference between starvation and life.

After discussing the situation in Cambodia with Senator John Danforth (R-Missouri), who had just returned from the Thai border, I co-sponsored the bill for immediate refugee relief.

I was troubled by what I heard. I wondered if America would be like the man with no shoes who pined himself until he saw the man with no feet.

So many of us are preoccupied with the problems of modern affluence—rising inflation, the high cost of energy, the low value of the dollar. In the midst of our economic troubles have we shown indifference to the 3 million Khmer refugees in Cambodia, who are dying of starvation, tuberculosis and prolonged conditions of utter destitution?

We have. Hundreds of thousands of Cambodians have died while the United States and other countries debated which government actually represented the refugees—the ousted Pol Pot regime or that imposed by the North Vietnamese. The fact is that no government represents them and only the conscience of mankind can protect them.

We should be wise enough of the lesson of history to avoid writing another chapter of suffering. These refugee children, whose stomachs distend as if carrying a great weight, cannot be relegated as mere footnotes to a shocking and disgraceful chapter in the annals of man. We cannot erase from our minds the emptiness of hunger that blots their bellies, which their emaciated frames can no longer carry; or the sight of women, walking skeletons themselves, who embrace the skeletons of their children.

Thousands of others who have collapsed along the refugee route from Cambodia to Thailand mark the road like grisly human milestones. Not even the thousands of miles walked by all these refugees together can measure their suffering or the immensity of the crime that will rest with the world if more are permitted to die.

If we do not act, Kampuchea will take its place beside the name of Auschwitz, Buchenwald, Treblinka and the Warsaw Ghetto as memorials to man's indifference to man. We are witnessing a genocide. Three million people are in immediate danger of extermination. Two hundred thousand refugees will die every month unless food and medical care are rushed to their relief. Already the population of Cambodia, after a decade of war, has been reduced from more than eight million to less than five million.

We cannot watch in silence while more fall from weakness and suffer the horrible death of starvation.

The highest levels of our State Department should be required to resolve the diplomatic problems that obstruct the international relief programs underway.

We must transcend political differences with the North Vietnamese and their regime in Cambodia and we must act to bring

THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT.
An American Cancer Society.

North Waterford — Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. —

The Friendly Senior Citizens of Waterford, Stoneham, Bridgton and Norway, met at Funkin' Valley Restaurant in Bridgton, Wednesday, Nov. 7 for their annual Thanksgiving dinner. There were thirty six in the party.

The tables were laden with all kinds of goodies, so delicious you didn't know where to start or when to stop. The desserts were so luscious even the most conscientious dieter couldn't resist. When finished everyone felt like stuffed turkeys ready for a feast.

A short meeting followed the dinner, called to order by President Theresa Proctor. A slate of officers was presented by the nominating committee chairman, Violet Doughty, as follows: President, aid to these homeless and dying people. It is absurd that the North Vietnamese should deny our offer of aid. Can we not prevail on the Soviet Union to bring its ally to reason? And is it not equally unreasonable that the Soviet Union, dependent on American wheat for sustenance, should assist an ally through its silence in the systematic starvation of millions of people?

Humanitarian action is the responsibility of all with the ability to give help. Individuals and organizations wishing to contribute to relief of the Cambodian refugees may do so through designated contributions to the American Red Cross and the following agencies:

ICRC, 17 Avenue de la Paix, 1202 Geneva, Switzerland
UNICEF, c/o UN Plaza, New York, New York 10017

Theresa Proctor; Vice President, Gene Maillet; 2nd Vice President, Clyde Stanton; Secretary, Edith Holt; Treasurer, Pamela DeTour; Chaplain, Steve Taylor; Chairman of new Nominating committee, Evelyn Kirk.

Everyone was so pleased with their dinner, they voted to go back for the Christmas party and dinner. All those wishing to go, please sign up with the president, Theresa Proctor, Mackey's Lodge, Long Lake, Bridgton, 04009. Date: Dec. 5.

Sunday, Nov. 4, was a beautiful day. We went to Peru to see my dad, Walter Lord, and took him out to dinner in Rumford, and for a ride. Later we picked up pine cones for starting our wood fire. They are cheaper than kerosene and much safer. You might say they are just one more energy saver.

Merline Littlefield went to Concord, N. H., Sunday, to visit her nephew, Kenny Perry, who is still in the Concord hospital.

Christie Lord and Edith McAllister went to Bridgton, Wednesday with Jo Sanderson to attend the Senior Citizens dinner.

Edith Holt was in Portland on Wednesday to see her doctor. She is in ill health.

Merline Littlefield had the misfortune to break her right wrist this past week.

Gordon Lord of Mexico was in town this week for a few days hunting with his father, Lee Lord. No luck.

Jo Sanderson and Clyde Stanton of the Lewiston Chapter of D.A.V., were in Norway, Thursday and Friday, selling Forget-Me-Not's to help the veterans in Togus.

THANK YOU
The Youth Fellowships of the West Parish Church would like to thank the many people who generously responded to their "Trick-Or-Treat" For UNICEF" out reach effort on Oct. 28. The groups collected $145, an increase of 164% over last year. Thanks again for being part of this important gift.

GOULD ATHLETES HONORED AT FALL SPORTS BANQUET

On Thursday, Nov. 8, Gould Academy held its annual fall sports banquet and awards night in the Gehring Hall dining room. After dinner, Headmaster Donald W. Fudge welcomed all who were present and thanked everyone for their dedication to the sport, their hard practice and their spirit of never giving up. These, he said, were invaluable lessons to be learned, not only by those who played but also by the rest of the student body, faculty and other spectators.

JV soccer coach Bede Wellford had each of his 27 team members stand for recognition and announced that they would each receive a JV certificate in the near future. Coach Charlie Newell then introduced his varsity soccer players and awarded letters to the following: seniors—Greg Banker, Baltimore, Md.; Michael Brody, Salem, Mass.; Jerome Howell, Bridgton; Junior—Eileen Cole, Brunswick; Sophomore—David Phillip, Scarborough, N. Eveline Barrett, Corres.

Another week of sunny days after a heavy rain all day Saturday. The hunters didn't mind the weather.

Ralph Estes, a former resident, went to Togus Tuesday.

Cleo Ryerson, Doris Lawrence and Betty Haggerty, called on Eveline Barrett during the week. Also Heather Ilsley.

Doris Lawrence had a nice visit with Sherb and Mildred York, town. Tuesday she went to Dr. Scott Masters, Lewiston, for eyes examination. Wednesday she had Mr. and Mrs. Norman Millett and family for an early Thanksgiving supper. On baked beans? Thursday she had a turkey supper for her sister, Alice Goff, niece Arlene and Norman Abbott and Jo-Anne, Rumford.

Two young men, neighbors, each shot their deer early Tuesday morning. They should have a bit of mince meat by now.

Herbert Stevens was on vacation this week.

Albert Downing has been doing some inside work for Mr. and Mrs. Vernal Harta. He also painted the new siding on Lawrence's house.

Sunday, Nov. 11, the whole gang: Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Records, Mr. and Mrs. Root Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley Sr., attended Harmon's fried clam dinner at Locke Mills Legion Hall, to celebrate Helen Emery's 81st birthday. It was delicious and fun. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Penley and Dougie also ate with them. Joe and Eveline Barrett went but didn't join the party. They ate their dinner in the car and visited with different ones. Joe loved the clams and he ate his share.

Anyone interested in requested and urged to inspect the buildings and site locations, so that he may intelligently determine value versus cost of removal and site cleanup. The buildings must be removed by May 28, 1980. The sites must also be cleaned up by that date. Time extensions will not be considered.

The building will be sold to the purchaser making the highest lump sum bid on each item. The Forest Service will consider selling the buildings to a purchaser for the consideration of removing them and cleaning up the sites. Note: If the buildings are not sold, the Forest Service will destroy them. Sale will take place on November 30, 1979 at 2:00 p. m. in the Laconia Federal Building, Laconia, N.H. Sale is by Sealed Bid. The buildings and any debris must be entirely removed.

The removal and site cleanup will be subject to the inspection and approval of the District Ranger, Steve Parsons. He will be the Forest Service officer in charge of administering the removal. Pre-bid inspections should be arranged with him. Office address: U. S. Forest Service, Bridge Street, Bethel, ME 04217. Telephone 207/824-2134. Copies of bid forms may be obtained from the Ranger's Office.

OLYMPIA SNOW From Congress

One of the most valuable, but often forgotten, natural resources we possess in America is farmland. As a nation, we have been fortunate to have an abundance of prime agricultural land conducive to growing a wide variety of crops. And, as a result, we have not only been basically food self-sufficient but we have also been in a position to be a major exporter of agricultural commodities.

However, during the past several years there has been growing concern about the fact that we are gradually losing a significant amount of our prime agricultural land. Between 1967 and 1975, it has been estimated that 31 million acres of farmland was converted to non-agricultural uses, and that of this acreage, 3.8 million was converted in Maine and the five other New England states. Currently, about one million acres of prime agricultural land, or that land best-suited for farming, is irreversibly lost to urbanization or water uses.

Certainly, if we are to ensure an adequate domestic supply of food, we must address this gradual erosion of productive farmland. Land, obviously, is a finite resource, and the irreversible conversion of prime agricultural lands to non-farm uses is not a situation which can, or should be ignored.

In an effort to make certain that we preserve sufficient amounts of prime agricultural land, I have joined with a number of my House colleagues in co-sponsoring the "Agricultural Land Protection Act" (H. R. 2551). The bill, which was introduced by Congressman Jim Jeffords of Vermont, would provide principally for the following:

(1) The federal government would be required to develop policies which would give protection of agricultural lands certain priorities when considering federal projects. In developing such policies, the federal government would be required to make them consistent with state and local land policies.

(2) The USDA's Soil Conservation Service would be authorized to provide technical assistance to state and local governments to aid in efforts to protect agricultural land.

(3) Demonstration programs would be established and the Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to award "50-50" matching grants to study and test farmland protection programs.

(4) The federal government would establish a study commission to gather data on various aspects of the nation's agricultural lands, the results of which are to be shared with state and local governments for planning purposes.

By taking these steps, I feel we will be moving to make certain that we will not only have the ability to produce sufficient food and fiber for our own people but also that we will be in a position to export agricultural products to other nations. Certainly, it is only an initial step in what must be a far broader effort to ensure a productive agricultural industry. Various economic and marketing problems must be addressed if we are to make farming profitable and attractive. In Maine, for instance, we have lost over 14,000 of 20,000 farms which existed 30 years ago principally as a result of the fact that the small Maine farm has generally not proven to be economically viable.

As we enter the 1980's and as greater demands are made for food supplies in the future, we must take steps to make certain that sufficient amounts of agricultural land are preserved while working to also help make farming a profitable endeavor in the years ahead. H.R. 2551 is an important step in that direction.

REV. AND MRS. KINGSBURY HONORED ON GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

An open house was held Oct. 13, at the Rumford Point Congregational Church in the honor of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Kingsbury's 50th anniversary.

Over 100 friends and relatives were on hand to wish them happiness, and a safe trip to Florida. The cake was made and decorated by Nancy Knights of Rumford Point. The money tree and gift table was tended by Pat Errington, and the guest book by Beulah Abbott. The party was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchins, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Errington and Mrs. Winnie Thurston. The Kingsburys left for Florida Oct. 18.

Rev. and Mrs. Kingsbury were married in Swampscott, Mass., at the home of Dr. James Vaneaver, pastor of the Episcopal Church in Swampscott, Feb. 22, 1930. Mrs. Kingsbury's maid-of-honor was Mrs. Helen O. Oroutt (nee Helen Wood of Harrison, Maine. Mr. Kingsbury's best man was Albert Sweet of Milford, Mass. A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Kingsbury after the ceremony.

Mrs. Kingsbury is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Wood of Swampscott, Mass. She is a graduate of Swampscott High School, Salem College, and the University of Maine. At the time of her marriage she was principal of the Atherton School in Stoughton, Mass. Since then she taught for the Massachusetts Council of Churches. Since coming to Maine she worked for the Maine Council of Churches as Rural Field Director and later taught in the public schools of Maine. She retired from Rumford Junior High school in 1968.

Rev. Mr. Kingsbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Kingsbury of Hopkinton, Mass. He is a graduate of Westboro High School in Westboro, Mass.; a graduate of the University of Massachusetts; Bangor Theological Seminary and the University of Maine. Before entering the ministry he was employed by the State of Massachusetts as head of the Horticultural Department of a state institution. Upon the death of his father he retired from his position to go to North Brookfield, Mass. and take over his father's poultry business. After a short time he came to Maine to enter the ministry. He graduated from the Bangor Theological Seminary in 1950 and entered the University of Maine. His first church was in Carthage and later he moved to Washington County; from there he was employed by the United Church of Christ as Field Minister. He served many churches while in this position. Eventually he came to Rumford Point, where he remained until October 1978.

MAINE HISTORY CLASS TAKES FIELD TRIP

The Maine history course sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society featured a field trip on Oct. 27 to some of Maine's more famous nearby sites.

The first stop was at Paris Hill, a national historic district, where a walking tour of the village was conducted by course instructor Stanley Howe. Paris Hill was home to among others a U.S. Vice President, two U.S. Senators, 12 U.S. Congressmen and five Maine Governors.

The next site was at Poland Spring, once a nationally famous resort founded by the Ricker family in the late 18th century. The group visited the Maine State Building, a structure on the National Register of Historic Places, which represented Maine at the Columbia Exposition in 1893 and was disassembled and moved to Poland Spring by the Ricker family in 1895 to become a library and art gallery. Across from the Maine State Building is All Soul's Chapel, also on the National Register, which was built in 1912 as an inter-denominational place of worship with funds largely donated by guests and staff of Poland Spring Hotel and features a Skinner organ, built by Ernest Skinner a nationally famous organ builder who is buried in Bethel's Woodland Cemetery.

At New Gloucester, the next stop, the group visited the Shaker Museum, established in the 18th century and today is the only functioning community of Believers in the United States.

On the return to Bethel some of the group took a detour to Waterville Flat to see the home of Charles Farrar Browne (1834-1887), better known as Artemus Ward, a nationally known humorist who was also Lincoln's favorite. At South Waterville, this group visited the grave of Browne.

ful friends while serving in this area. They spend summers in Maine and winters in Florida, but they say, "There is no place like Maine."

Greenwood City

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.
Just before hunting season I went to the woods for evergreens to put with my red berries. I love the tangle of moss and of branches that interlace until the woodland looks like a mysterious maze.

Out by the ledges I think the scene was what the poet called "silence rendered visible." Looking down onto the pond, it was as smooth as glass. The air was fragrant with balsam. I sat down and just waited. A birch which had grown old stood alone, silently dignified but forlorn, as if waiting for a step or a voice or even a breeze to come by.

No season is without color and life, wonder and surprise. Everything has a season and if you would know the world of which you are a part you must know the way a snow drift is shaped in January as well as the ecstasy with which a thrush greets a September dawn or a robin greets a June morn.

Going back from the ledges, walking the leaf mold in the making, which provides a blanket for lesser woodland plants, I gathered some of the things for which I came. There were tiny cones, acorn cups, and the evergreen.

I took a look at earth's great travelers, the clouds, constantly being renewed. Then I continued uphill to find the road leading home.

I thought as I arranged my evergreens that perhaps my next forest trip will be in snow time, on snowshoes, for I will not travel the woods again until hunting season is over.

By mid afternoon the sun sank as red as fire. I enjoyed it from my kitchen window looking west across the pond. As I stood staring and questioning the sky, I saw a flock of birds advancing southward. A gull or some other large bird seemed to emerge from a hovering cloud and came sailing, following the blue course of the channel, then disappeared. I wondered why it was alone and here.

At the feeder there was a busy time. Of the many varied tenants that lease our yard from year to year, not one of them is more loved than the cheerful little black-capped chickadee. Perhaps his popularity is due in some degree to his accessibility. He remains with us the year around. His garb is ever the same in youth or age, summer or winter and he announces his name at the slightest opportunity. His way of doing so is gentle, confiding, and cheerful and so captivating.

"Piped a tiny voice hard by Chic-chicadee-dee!"

This "scrap of valor" is drawn by a bit of suet in the winter. He calls "Suet-for-me: Chickadee, dee, dee!" How he gladdens a dreary day and brightens one's mental atmosphere with his pretty song. He renders a valuable service, also by

Newry

Miss Amy Hingsham, Corres.
Special Thanksgiving Services will be held at the Newry Community Church, Sunday, Nov. 18, at 9 a. m., with Pastor Rodney Hingsham. The Sunday School will take part in the service.

Mrs. Doris Field and Ted Cunningham, Moody, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee Swan.

Charlotte Kendall Johnson, Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Thurston, Frye, and Debra Learned, Locke Mills, were callers on Mrs. Louise Learned last week.

Mrs. Louise Learned called on Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fugliese, Gilead, Friday.

Richard Moore and Joe Salvato, Warren, N. J., are spending some time at the Moore camp.

Mr. Gauthier reported Tuesday morning that he had inspected five deer. Twenty-one bear have been tagged since May 1.

Mrs. June Swan, town treasurer, received a check for $801.49 from the State Friday, for the balance due the Town on the 1978 Tree Growth Tax reimbursement. The Selectmen had estimated the reimbursement at $6,567.99. In December of 1978 $2,837.34 was received and $3,129.16, in July of this year, leaving a balance of $601.49. Roger Hanscom, chairman of the Selectmen, contacted the Bureau of Taxation several times about this shortage, but received no satisfaction. He then contacted Karen Brown, Representative to the Legislature, and Governor Joseph Brennan. He then received word from the Bureau of Taxation that the additional amount was due, and would be paid in about two weeks. The check has now been received. Under the Tree Growth Tax Law, the Town lost $10,101.16 in taxes in 1978, in addition to the amount reimbursed by the State. This loss must be made up by other taxpayers, many of them low income home owners, who must pay additional tax to make up for what large woodland owners do not pay under Tree Growth. For example, a taxpayer with a $30,000 home in Newry paid $366 tax in 1978. Without Tree Growth, the tax would have been $297.

For 1979, the estimated reimbursement is $5,579.91, with an additional non-reimbursable loss of $9,507.87. The 1979 tax rate under Tree Growth is $11.80 per thousand of assessed valuation, without Tree Growth it would have been $10.20. A group of interested citizens in the State are circulating petitions asking the Legislature to favor a 90% reimbursement from the State on Tree Growth Tax losses and a 50% reimbursement on other tax revenues to municipalities due to State exemptions. If the Legislature fails to act a referendum would be held. The Selectmen are not favoring this, however, without some way to finance the reimbursement. The Board chairman is favoring a severance tax on wood cut from land under Tree Growth, to finance the Tree Growth refund. James Norris, of the State Bureau of Taxation, said he felt that his office could easily handle such a program, and felt a tax, possibly as low as five cents per cord, could finance it.

HALL-DALE DEFEATS TELSTAR 6-0 ON MUDDY FIELD FOR STATE "D" CHAMPIONSHIP

Fields covered ankle deep in mud have a way of equalizing football teams. One break, or a big play, usually spells the difference, and it was a 16 yard touchdown pass in the second quarter which lifted Hall-Dale over Telstar 6-0 Saturday for the Class "D" Championship at Capitol Park in Augusta.

The middle of the field was a quagmire, and that's where most of the game was played. The favored Rebels reached the Hall-Dale 26 in the first quarter and the 12 in the third, but otherwise couldn't get beyond the mud line.

Hall-Dale's touchdown was set up by a roughing the kicker penalty giving the Bulldogs the ball at the Telstar 40. Some observers felt the punt had been partially blocked, which would have nullified the call, but officials spotted no block.

The Bulldogs made good of the situation, at any rate. Todd Havey took two pitchouts for 11 yards and another first down at the 29. On third and three from the 22, Larry Smith ran around left end to the 16. After being stopped for no gain, Beaudoin faded back and unloaded a perfect pass which Fortin snared deep in the left corner of the end zone for the touchdown.

For the rest of the game, the Hall-Dale defense bugged a little but wouldn't give.

The Bulldogs entered the game with a 4-5 overall record while the Rebels were 8-1. But both teams were 3-1 in official "D" standings, and Telstar buried Boothbay 32-6 in the playoff opener while Hall-Dale drew a bye.

After the touchdown, Telstar put on a 14-play drive sparked by the running of Russ Palmer, but a 15 yard penalty for an illegal block set them back to their own 41 after reaching the Hall-Dale 40, and the drive died.

The Rebels took the second kick-off, and began to move quickly with Rusty Van Deursen carrying the ball. From his own 43, Van Deursen broke open off left tackle for a 27-yard pickup to the Hall-Dale 30.

On fourth and three from the 23, Van Deursen got the call again, and picked up a first down at the 19, but the Hall-Dale defense stiffened, and took over on downs after four Telstar running plays at its own 14.

The Bulldogs were in bad field position, as they were for the entire second half, but consistent punting by Havey, despite the muddy conditions, kept them out of trouble.

Three times, after Havey punts, the Rebels took over near midfield, where footing was non-existent. They simply couldn't move the ball consistently on that part of the field.

A 10-yard punt return by Mark Bean gave Telstar the ball at its own 35 with 6:02 to play. The Rebels picked up a first down at the 46 and another at the Hall Dale 43 on a fourth down run by Palmer. But a clutch defensive play by Scott Hayden turned the tide. Hayden sacked quarterback Doug Webster for a 10 yard loss to the Telstar 47, and the extra yardage was just too much to gain in the middle area. Hall-Dale took over on downs at its own 41 after a pass to Jeff Hastings fell eight yards shy of the first down.

Time was the factor now, and after a Hall-Dale punt gave Telstar the ball back at its own 40, there were just 25 seconds left.

Webster threw to Hastings for a five yard pick up, and on the next play the Bulldogs were called for pass interference, giving the Rebels a first down at the Hall-Dale 40.

The next pass fell incomplete, and the game ended when Webster was sacked for a loss.

Telstar outtrushed Hall-Dale 149 yards to 52, while the winners had the edge in passing, 29 to 20. The Rebels had a nine to six edge in first downs, and were assessed 45 yards in penalties versus 25 for Hall-Dale.

COUPLES' PARTICIPATION IS CHARACTERISTIC OF ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM

A characteristic of this fall's S. A. D. #44 Adult and Community Education classes is participation by couples. Husband and wife teams are visible in Sports and Karate, as well as Pottery, Architecture, Natural History, Accounting, History and Basic Car Care. Other couples choose to come to Adult Ed. on the same night, but enroll in separate classes. Adult Education welcomes other family combinations, as high school students may attend Adult Ed. classes when accompanied by a parent.

The recent meeting to determine interest in a Navigation class was successful in attracting a good number of students for the course which will start in early February. Details will be published at a later date.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell visited the Tuesday evening classes in Andover last week. The Quilting class, taught by Paula Putnam, has made a great variety of articles, using a number of different patterns. They are hoping to display some of their items at the end of the class. Cake decorating, taught by Sue Field, has a group of avid participants, who were in the process of making very professional-looking roses and leaves. Many suggestions for future classes were relayed to Mrs. Newell.

On Nov. 14, the Sports class planned to travel to the Hillsdale Racquetball Club in South Paris for a special clinic in the technique of making very professional-looking roses and leaves.

Following approval by the S. A. D. #44 Board of Directors on Monday evening of the sixth grade health education curriculum, Middle School sixth graders will be given the opportunity to participate in a seven week health education course taught by Middle School teacher Peter Brown. The course is scheduled to begin on Nov. 28. Because of the rotation of classes, some students will not be able to take the course until the third or fourth quarter, but it will be available to all sixth graders at some time during the school year.

The topics to be covered in the course include: Illness and Chronic Disease, Substance Use and Abuse, Personality and Emotional Health, and Family Life. The teaching materials to be used will be available on Monday, Nov. 26, 7 to 8:30 p. m. at the Telstar Library. Parents are encouraged to view the materials and discuss them with their children. The course will be a joint effort of the school and the community.

Dana Douglass, Jr., chairman of the Planning Board met with the Selectmen to discuss activities for 1980 and the need for staff help to assist them accomplish the proposed activities. The Planning Board feels that a part-time person working 10 hours per week could adequately assist them with research and record keeping tasks.
